How can you get the latest communications tools and IT services for your business while saving money? The answer is Colt Ceano.

Simply choose everything you need: all from one place. Make changes instantly. Save money with pay-per-use options. And get 24/7 support. Easy.

Colt Ceano gives you the edge

When business needs change, you need to adapt quickly. However small and medium-sized companies often find change difficult: adding new technology is expensive, takes time and can disrupt business.

With Colt Ceano, you can respond instantly to new challenges and opportunities, while your competitors may lack this agility. Colt Ceano offers a wide range of innovative IT and telecoms services from just one management platform and one trusted provider: Colt. Add services and change them whenever you want. It's fast and simple.

Colt Ceano lets you:
- connect more cost-effectively with business-grade services
- communicate effortlessly with the office and all your contacts
- collaborate easily with your team, partners and clients
- create and oversee a virtual IT infrastructure
- protect your business and assets.

New services are added continually, so you can stay at the leading edge of IT.

Colt Ceano saves you money

Sourcing voice, data and managed services from different providers can be less efficient than using one partner for everything. Colt can provide and host all your services so they're always available. That way, you can focus better on your core business.

There are major savings too:
- simplify your IT with only one supplier, one point of contact, one bill to pay and one contract
- avoid hardware, installation and maintenance costs
- many services are pay-as-you-go, so you only pay for what you use.

Colt Ceano is unique

Colt's state-of-the-art fibre network and 20 data centres across Europe put us in a unique position to offer Colt Ceano. We provide business-class services, backed by award-winning 24/7 customer support.

Purchase communications and IT services instantly

How to get started

Simply choose any combination of services to fit your business needs. Services are priced competitively and are covered with one contract. Our professionals will be glad to provide any advice you may need.

With Colt Ceano, your IT can always keep pace with your business aspirations and budget.

Your network, communications and cloud-based IT services are all in one place, with one trusted provider - Colt. This frees you to respond quickly to new challenges and business opportunities, rather than getting side-tracked by the need for major purchasing decisions and day-to-day IT issues.

Most importantly, you stay in control. We provide reports and tools for your IT team. Adding new applications and extend existing applications to new users is easy. You can also upgrade, switch or cancel services on demand.
